DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 58-60, 62-103, and 105-145 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 58, 60, 62, 66-70, 72-75, 79, 82, 83, 88, 89, 101-103, 105, 109-113, 115-118, 122, 125, 126, 131, 132, 137, and 138 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. The above claims simply recite limitations regarding receiving and storing a signal without a practical application. This is simply a manipulation of an abstract idea (signal) without a claimed practical application. MPEP 2106.02 [R-5] states:

*>Claims to processes that do nothing more than solve mathematical problems or manipulate abstract ideas or concepts are complex to analyze and are addressed herein. If the "acts" of a claimed process manipulate only numbers, abstract concepts or ideas, or signals representing any of the foregoing, the acts are not being applied to appropriate subject matter. Gottschalk v. Benson, 409 U.S. 63, 71 - 72, 175 USPQ 673, 676

(1972). Thus, a process consisting solely of mathematical operations, i.e., converting one set of numbers into another set of numbers, does not manipulate appropriate subject matter and thus cannot constitute a statutory process.

In practical terms, claims define nonstatutory processes if they:

- consist solely of mathematical operations without some claimed practical application(i.e., executing a “mathematical algorithm”); or
- simply manipulate abstract ideas, e.g., a bid (Schrader, 22 F.3d at 293-94, 30 USPQ2d at 1458-59) or a bubble hierarchy (Warmerdam, 33 F.3d at 1360, 31 USPQ2d at 1759), without some claimed practical application.

The above claims simply recite limitations which solely consists of manipulating a signal (abstract idea) without some claimed practical application.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 144 and 145 are allowable over prior art references.
5. Claims 59, 63-65, 71, 76-78, 80, 81, 84-87, 90-100, 106-108, 114, 119-121, 123, 124, 127-130, 133-136, and 139-143 and objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
